MOTION

(Your name) _____, in Proper Person, moves this Court for an Order granting temporary custody, visitation, child support, spousal support, and/or exclusive possession of the marital residence.

POINTS AND AUTHORITIES LEGAL ARGUMENT

(you must check and comply with the box below)

- I understand that I must file my Financial Disclosure Form to support my request for temporary child support, temporary spousal support, and/or exclusive possession of the marital residence, and that failure to file my Financial Disclosure Form may result in my request being denied.

When determining physical custody of a child, the sole consideration of the court is the best interest of the child. NRS 125C.0035(1). In accordance with NRS 125C.0035(4), in determining the best interest of the child, the court must consider and set forth its specific findings concerning, among other things:

- (a) The wishes of the child if the child is of sufficient age and capacity to form an intelligent preference as to his or her physical custody.
- (b) Any nomination of a guardian for the child by a parent.
- (c) Which parent is more likely to allow the child to have frequent associations and a continuing relationship with the noncustodial parent.
- (d) The level of conflict between the parents.
- (e) The ability of the parents to cooperate to meet the needs of the child.
- (f) The mental and physical health of the parents.
- (g) The physical, developmental and emotional needs of the child.
- (h) The nature of the relationship of the child with each parent.
- (i) The ability of the child to maintain a relationship with any sibling.
- (j) Any history of parental abuse or neglect of the child or a sibling of the child.
- (k) Whether either parent or any other person seeking physical custody has engaged in an act of domestic violence against the child, a parent of the child or any other person residing with the child.

(l) Whether either parent or any other person seeking physical custody has committed any act of abduction against the child or any other child.

There is a preference that joint physical custody would be in the best interest of the child if: 1) the parents have so agreed; or 2) a parent has demonstrated, or attempted to demonstrate but had his or her efforts frustrated by the other parent, an intent to establish a meaningful relationship with the child. A court may award one parent primary physical custody if it determines that joint physical custody is not in the best interest of the child. NRS 125C.0025.

The court determines child support under NRS 125B.070 and NRS 125B.080.

In a pending divorce case, the court may order one spouse to pay temporary spousal support to the other spouse. NRS 125.040. The court may also make orders affecting the property of the parties, including awarding one spouse temporary exclusive possession of the community residence. NRS 125.040.
